

Council objects to strategy

Haliburton County council has requested an extension of the deadline for submissions on the recently released Ministry of Natural Resources Land Use Strategy. One member of the council described the document which was made public in August as "a dangerous document".

The request for the extension came at the September 15 meeting of the council. The county council has not met since the strategy was released and while some municipal councillors had offered their opinions on the details it contained, others appeared to be unaware that the study had been made public.

It was Dysart Reeve Murray Fearrey who described the strategy as "dangerous". He said the policies outlined in the strategy could limit development in the county. "If you slough off this document, you'll have to live with its contents for a long time to come," Fearrey warned the members of the council.

He noted that Dysart council had prepared a lengthy reply to the strategy covering a number of points of concern. "There are six new parks being proposed for the Muskoka area," Fearrey pointed out, "but none for this county." The strategy did identify one area in the south-east portion of the Minden MNR district as a potential park. It is located outside of the county, however. "We need at least one or two new parks here," the reeve suggested.

He said the policies outlined in the strategy for the protection of fresh water fisheries and deer yards could act as a limiting factor on development in the county. He claimed the strategy was not specific on what was, and was not, policy. "Let's see some specific policies before we approve the strategy," he said.

He said the issue of the impact of acid rain was ignored in the document. "How can you set out a policy for fresh water fisheries and ignore this problem?" he asked.

Fearrey told the meeting that the strategy was not final policy and that the ministry was still seeking municipal input. However, he cautioned the members of council to act quickly in responding.

Stanhope Township deputy reeve Elgin Stouffer mentioned a concern of his, the timber under the control of the Frost Centre near Dorset. He said the centre does not have the financial resources to mark the trees suitable for cutting within its jurisdiction and therefore large areas of useable timber cannot be cut. He said the cost to mark the trees is approximately $15 per 1000 trees.

He sought, and later received approval from the councillors for a resolution urging the provincial government to make money available for the marking of the timber on the centre's property.

The deadline for submissions on the strategy was August 31. The council has requested an extension of that closing date to allow for its own comments to be formulated and for other municipalities in the county to offer their opinions as well. According to the resolution passed by the council, "the submission will deal with parks, deer yards, fresh water fisheries, acid rain and the infringement of these policies as they relate to municipal planning and private land owners."

Runners break away from the starting line as the second annual memorial run for Terry Fox gets underway in Haliburton Village. Over one hundred runners, walkers and cyclists took part in the event and raised close to $4,000 for cancer research.

Terry's memory is alive

The sun shone on Haliburton County residents Sunday as they remembered Terry Fox.

Despite brisk breezes blowing off Head Lake in Haliburton, 112 runners, cyclists and walkers lined up at the community dock for the start of the second annual Terry Fox run for cancer research. The participants, who had gathered pledges for their efforts set off on a ten kilometre trek.

The fastest completed the circuit in 38 minutes while it was almost three hours after the event started that the final participant checked in.

The run raised $3896.15, about $2,000 short of last year's total when 256 took part.

Organizer Blair Pierce was still pleased with the outcome. "Everyone had a good time and enjoyed themselves," he noted.

Meanwhile, in Minden Sunday evening close to 70 people took part in the annual Terry Fox picnic. Billed as a community event to honour the memory of a great Canadian, the event is coordinated by Reverend George Elliott.

Some of the participants ran the three kilometre course which had been laid out for the event while others simply enjoyed the fellowship of the day. According to the organizer, copious quantities of hot dogs and ears of corn were consumed by those in attendance.

Forest protection by-law approved

A by-law to control commercial logging operations with the municipality of Dysart et al was approved at the September meeting of Haliburton County Council. It was suggested at the meeting that the new legislation could be adopted by other municipalities in the county to protect this area's hardwood forests from over-harvesting.

According to Peter Hynard MNR forestry specialist who headed a committee which drafted the by-law, its purpose is to protect the hardwood stands in the municipality, protect adjacent landowners whose property might be affected by excessive harvesting and protect deer herds.

Under the by-law, the cutting of certain species of trees under a certain size is forbidden. The regulation does not apply to an individual cutting trees on his own property for his own use or in situations where it is deemed necessary or appropriate to cut younger trees to improve the productivity of the forest in general.

Hynard told the council that the by-law was prompted by the harvesting practices which are currently taking place on some privately held parcels of land. The wood is being cut for fuel purposes but no consideration is being given to the regeneration of the area, according to Hynard.

He noted that the provisions of the by-law apply only in those sections of Dysart zoned for forestry purposes.

The Trees Act, under which the by-law was passed, allows the county to enact the restrictive legislation. However, since the request for the action came from the municipality of Dysart, the scope of the new by-law is reserved for that part of the county alone.

Under the provisions of the by law, cutting of trees within 50 feet of a river, lake, provincial highway, county of township road will also be forbidden. Cutting is also restricted within 300 feet of a lake where the shore lands have been zoned for residential purposes, or within 50 feet of lands zoned for residential purposes.

It is noted in the by-law that the provisions do not apply to operations of the Ministry of Natural Resources operating on Crown land.

The by-law also restricts the cutting to hemlock trees within the traditional deer wintering yard in the municipality. According to the provisions of the by-law, the area included is mainly in Harburn Township, east of Haliburton Lake.

The by-law has an automatic sunset clause, which means its provisions will no longer apply after one year. Hynard noted that the clause was inserted to ensure that the by-law is reviewed after a year of operation.

While certain provisions of the by-law, particularly those excluding the Ministry operation from its provisions,

One more game

A fourth game will be necessary in the Tri County Softball League between the Minden Rockcliffe Hustlers and York Tavern, Lindsay.

The Hustlers were defeated Tuesday evening, 5 - 4 in a close game in Lindsay. The Hustlers had a 2 game lead in the best of five series going into the Tuesday night contest and the team was expected to sweep the series three games straight.

The next game in the play-offs will be played Sunday evening at the Minden diamond. Game time is 8:30 p.m. Come out and support the team.

Branch 129 will host Drumhead Service

Branch 129, Royal Canadian Legion, Haliburton, will be hosting the District "F" Drumhead Service on Sunday, September 26. Haliburton has hosted the District Drumhead twice before in 1954 and 1970. On both of these occasions, it was the largest turn out of Veterans for a Drumhead seen in the district.

There are 54 Legion Branches in District "F" from the eastern boundaries of Toronto to Napanee and north to Bancroft and Haliburton. In 1970, the parade in Haliburton consisted of six pipe bands and over a thousand veterans on parade. We are hoping for as many this year.

Many ask, "What is a Drumhead Service"? In the olden days when an army was in the field, church services were held where ever the army stopped. The drums from the band were piled and draped with the colours and this formed the pulpit for the church service, hence it was called a Drumhead Service.

The festivities for the weekend will start on Saturday night, September 25, with the Drumhead Colour Ball for Legion members and their guests. Music will be supplied by Ken Hadley's Band, "South Willow". Already we have over 150 Legion members and their wives from visiting Branches booked in local motels and lodges.

On Sunday, the Ladies Auxiliary will be starting to serve hot meals at 11:00 a.m. The parade will fall in at 1:30 p.m. in the ball park and move off at 1:45 p.m. The parade will stop at the cenotaph for a short service of remembrance. The parade will then proceed to the band shell in Head Lake Park for the Drumhead Service. The drummers of the Haliburton Legion Pipe Band have been given the honour of piling the drums in a very impressive ceremony. The local drummers have piled the drums on several other occasions, but this will be the first time they have had the privilege to do it at home. After the drums have been piled, the Parade Marshall will drape them with the district colours. The Branch 129 colours will then be placed on the band shell.

The speaker for the service will be provincial 2nd vice president, Bill Smith. Following the service, the drums are unpiled and the parade will then return to the ball park via York and Maple Streets. The salute will be taken by Comrade Bill Smith. The saluting base will be located on Mountain Street, opposite the Legion Hall.

After the break off in the ball park, we hope to have a few selections by the massed Pipe and Drums of District "F". Pipe Bands coming to date are from: Oshawa, Bowmanville, Cobourg, Port Hope, Lindsay, Bancroft and Haliburton. After the parade the Legion members will retire to the Legion for a couple of hours of Comradeship and the renewing of old acquaintances. It is hoped that all Legion members who are able, will be out on parade to make a good representation for Branch 129.

This will be, in all probability, the last large parade of World War II Veterans that Haliburton will ever see, as the average age of W.W.II Veterans is now more than 65 years and in that it would be another 12 or 14 years until Haliburton might host another Drumhead Service, would mean there would not be too many that would be able to go on parade.

It is hoped there will be a large turnout of the citizens of Haliburton and area to give a good hand to these veterans as they march by with their heads high and bodies erect as the the years will permit. These are the veterans from cities, towns and villages of East Central Ontario. Men of the Midlands, Hasty Pees, S.D. & G's, the 45th et al. On Sunday, September 26, they will remember their Comrades who have joined the "White Battalion" in war years and the years since.

Forest protection by-law

were criticized by the members of the council, there seemed to be a feeling that the new legislation represented a step forward in protecting the area's hardwood forests. Snowdon Deputy Reeve John Francis commented, "It was a shame that Dysart had to proceed on its own on this matter. The whole county should consider enacting similar legislation. We've been discussing forestry for the past four years."

Dysart Reeve Murray Fearrey said he felt the by-law was, "a step in the right direction." He noted that the committee was forced to make a number of compromises before reaching a consensus.

However, he added, "If we have a couple of more years of high fuel wood prices, we won't have a forestry industry to protect. I don't like to interfere with the rights of private land owners, but feel in this case it is necessary." Fearrey said he expected other townships in the county to come under pressure to adopt a similar by-law now that this one is in place.

Members of the committee which assisted in the drafting of the by-law included B. Saginon, Siac Nesbitt, Bill Emmerson, Charlie Heard, John Bruce and Peter Hynard, along with municipal representation.

County Warden Ron Gambell concluded the discussion of the by-law by commenting, "It looks like Dysart is showing leadership again."

Protected trees

The following species of trees will be protected from cutting under the provisions of the by-law enacted for Dysart Township last Wednesday. The restrictions apply to privately held lands in areas zoned for forestry. There are a number of exceptions to these restrictions and individuals interested should consult the full text of the by-law at the county office in Minden for exact details.

In general, however, the by-law provides protection for the following species of trees under the sizes indicated:

- Maple, hard or soft; Birch, yellow; Basswood; Ash, white; Cherry, black; Spruce, white or red: 38 inches in circumference, a circumference equal to 12 inches in diameter.

- Hemlock: 44 inches in circumference, a circumference equal to 14 inches in diameter.

- Oak, red; Pine, white or red: 47 inches in circumference, a circumference equal to 15 inches in diameter.

A common legacy

Congratulations are in order for the municipality of Dysart and county council in initiating and passing the tree protection by law. The new law, endorsed at the September 15 meeting, will place limits on the size of certain species of trees which can be removed from the municipality's forests.

The by-law recognizes the right of property owners to, within reasonable limits, maintain control over the trees on their land. Cutting of trees for a landowner's own use is permitted.

What the by-law does do is prevent the wholesale pillage of the Highlands' rich heritage of hardwoods. These trees may rest on private property and can be considered to be an individual's personal possession. But, the new by-law also recognizes that we are all responsible to tomorrow's children. The natural heritage of this province is a legacy over which we have only temporary control. We must all strive to pass on a richer, more abundant resource than that which we received.

The by-law attempts to control those who would prefer to gain immediate profit to the future's detriment. It is a model by-law that the other municipalities in the county should very seriously consider adopting.

Fall is migration season, and the thought of thousands of birds passing through on their way south seems not at all unusual. This season is also migration time for the monarch butterfly, but it seems almost unbelievable that the fragile orange and black butterflies flitting among the blossoms are actually taking part in a journey thousands of miles long.

Much of the story of the monarchs has been unravelled by a Canadian scientist, Dr. Frederick Urquhart of the Royal Ontario Museum. During the 1950's Dr. Urquhart enlisted the help of hundreds of volunteers for a unique hobby - butterfly tagging. As many as 20,000 monarchs in a single year were labelled with small paper tags, attached to one edge of the wing. Dr. Urquhart's tags were returned from the coastal states along the Gulf of Mexico, with adult monarchs making the trip from Ontario to Florida in only three weeks. However, it was not until recently that the main winter concentration of monarch butterflies was discovered, deep in the Sierra Madre mountains of Mexico.

More recent work suggests that the butterflies reproduce in the southern states in early March, before their spring flight northward to begin another life cycle here in May. Apparently the adult butterflies can control their rate of aging through their hormonal system, so that the autumn butterflies we see now age slowly, and are conditioned to cluster together and migrate rather than to reproduce again.

One of the more spectacular phenomena associated with migration is the clustering of thousands of monarchs on "butterfly trees." While these concentrations occur across the province, a trip to Point Pelee National Park during September is almost certain to turn up trees that seem to be alive with the orange flickering of resting butterflies. As you admire the beauty of this mass of butterflies, however, it is difficult not to wonder how an insect barely the weight of a paper clip can find its way through the hazards of a migration of thousands of miles.

Last week I outlined for you some background information on the Report of the Liberal Committee on Health Care in Ontario. I would like to follow up this week with some of the Committee's recommendations, and would be pleased to have any comments from constituents in regard to this Report.

Ontario Health Personnel

1. Fund emergency paramedic programs immediately in communities where local initiatives have emerged, such as in Ottawa.

2. Recognize ambulances by statute as emergency vehicles.

3. Commit the province to training 1,000,000 Ontarians in Cardio-Pulmonary Resuscitation, starting with hospital staff, OPP officers and the Ontario Public Service, and make CPR a mandatory part of the high school curriculum.

4. Direct the Ontario Coroner's office to consider pre-hospital care standards in all investigations of deaths in order to focus attention on the lack of advanced emergency paramedic services.

5. Appoint a Select Committee of the Legislature on the status of physicians as a self-governing profession, including within the terms of reference: an appropriate negotiating structure for the profession; terms of work, including the issue of the right to withdraw services; alternatives to the fee-for-service model; implications of extra-billing; OHIP administration; the CPSO and Health Discipline Board roles, composition and procedures.

6. Maintain the existing number of training positions for interns and residents in Ontario teaching hospitals.

Hospitals

7. Establish a 1983-84 budget base for each public hospital, tailored to the specific circumstances of each institution, taking into account: (1) clearly identified and justified community needs; (2) physical characteristics and age of plant and equipment; (3) hospital management standards; (4) changes in the environment; (5) compensation required to recruit and retain staff at approved levels.

8. Adjust hospital budgets for 1982-83 to provide full funding for increased labour costs resulting from arbitrated settlements with unionized staff.

9. Accelerate approval of hospital capital works proposals.

10. Increase the supply of beds available for active treatment to reduce waiting periods for hospital admission.

11. Establish an Advisory Committee of representatives of the Ontario Hospital Association, Ontario Medical Association, Registered Nurses' Association of Ontario, patients' and consumers' organizations, to report publicly on the role and responsibilities of hospital boards, including: criteria for appointment; committee structures; financial accountability; provincial regulation; reporting procedures; planning and coordination.

Mental Health & Geriatric Services

12. Develop a comprehensive program of community-based psychiatric after-care, with the provision of significantly increased administrative support and funding to ensure effective implementation. The program should include: training in life skills; educational and vocational opportunities; a full range of supportive housing; development of social and leisure skills; family support; self-help groups; financial management; continuity of care, including home nursing, therapy and homemaking.

13. Review patient discharge planning and procedures to ensure: (1) proper follow-up; (2) that psychiatric patients are not excessively concentrated in one part of any community as has occurred in the Parkdale area of Toronto.

14. Appoint management boards representative of the community, to govern the Ontario psychiatric hospitals, as is now the case for public hospitals.

15. Revise and enforce nursing home standards, making public the results of nursing home inspections and altering the funding formula to provide for a negotiated budget base related to the level of care provided.

16. Accelerate the expansion of chronic home care and OHIP-insurable homemaking for the frail elderly and all disabled adults, funding such programs on the basis of full reimbursement of approved costs.

17. Approve construction of a chronic care hospital of up to 300 beds in Windsor, in view of the particularly acute situation in that community.

18. Carry out a province-wide survey of nursing homes, homes for aged and chronic care facilities with the aim of developing a long-term expansion program based on current and projected future requirements. Special attention should be paid to the inappropriate placement of patients in acute care beds due to the lack of long-term care facilities in each region of the province.

Racers enthusiastic about grass drags

It was the first year for the event, but according to organizer Leroy Lichty, the snowmobile drag races on grass were an unqualified success. The event was held Saturday and Sunday afternoons at the fair grounds.

The event drew a larger contingent of racers and their crews than it did spectators, an indication, perhaps, of the enthusiasm that exists among racers. However, Lichty said he expects larger crowds in the future as word of the event spreads.

The drag races, which saw snowmobiles in various classes racing in a number of heats over the quarter mile stretch, was jointly sponsored by the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association and Ski-Doo in co-operation with Prentice Roads of Minden.

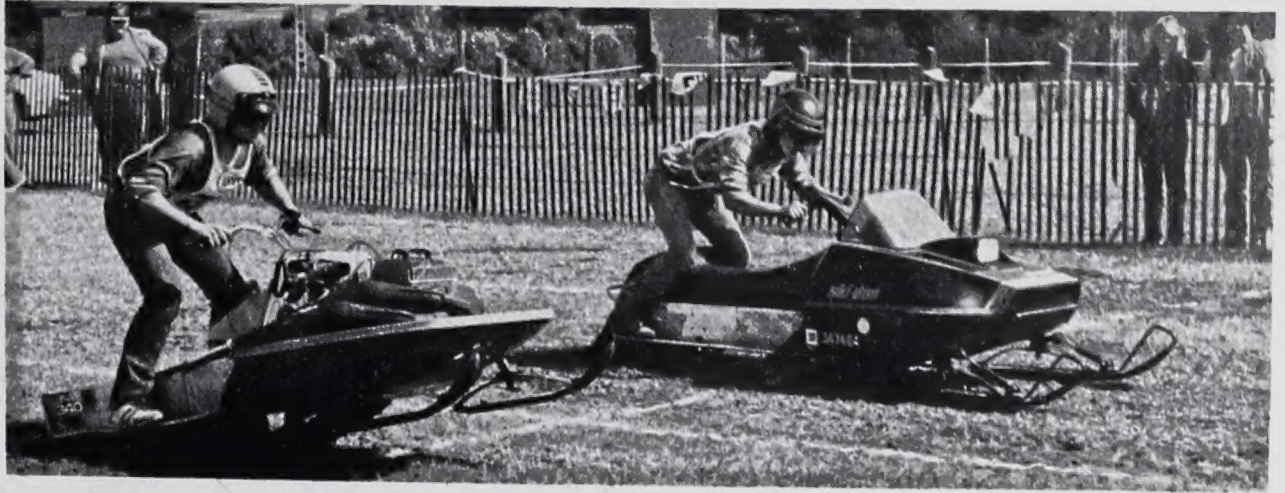

The drags, which were the first of the season, drew racers from as far away as Ohio, with many points in Ontario represented in the pit area.

Dan Brown of Waterdown, Ontario, claimed the first prize in the competition. He was driving a 6000 Arctic Cat and amassed a total point score of 38 in the two days of action.

Second spot went to Ron Beach of Uxbridge, astride a 440 Ski-Doo independent. He had a point total of 33.

Ohio entrant Bob Beaudin placed third with 30 points. He was driving an unlimited class machine.

Peter Newheizey took fourth spot on a SRU Yamaha while fifth place went to Glen Delzeil on a Polaris Indy 600.

Lichty said he expected the event to be held again next year with increased interest as word spreads about the competition.

Boating accident probed

Minden OPP investigated a boating accident on Kawagama Lake near Dorset, Thursday September 16, in which three persons were taken to hospital.

The operator of the boat, Leon Bartlett of Toronto was charged with dangerous boating.

The boat, a 21 foot Starcraft Mariner equipped with a 115 h.p. outboard motor, sustained $2,500 in damages when it was run to shore and struck a tree.

Driving north in his 1979 Ford truck on County Road 2, Friday September 17, Michael Saulnier of Rexdale swerved to avoid an animal and his car struck the southbound 1972 Chevrolet being driven by William Leary of Norland.

The Leary vehicle carried on, striking a rock on the east shoulder of the road.

Only minor injuries were reported and a total of $6,500 in damages was incurred by both vehicles.

Thefts

Jack Hewson of Highlands Plumbing in Minden reported a break-in at his business on September 17.

Approximately $200 in cash was taken.

The incident is being investigated by Constable Weldon Popp.

Another theft was reported September 18 by Cathy Milik who reported a break-in at the cottage of Gary Stoadley just of Green Lake Resort.

Stolen items included stereo equipment, portable T.V. set, tool box and tools with an estimated value of $1,200.

The investigating officer is Constable Dennis Potter.

Constable Potter is also investigating the theft of 2 chainsaws and 12 chainsaw files from the pickup truck of Rick Wood.

The items are valued at approximately $900.

A 50 h.p. Evinrude motor was stolen from the back of a 16 foot aluminum boat stored in the garage at the cottage of William Kuhlman on Lower Welsh Lake.

The theft was reported September 18 and the estimated value of the motor is $3000.

Constable Brian Dunham is investigating the incident.

The last contest

Five entrants guessed the correct answer for our eleventh and final Spot the Shot contest. They correctly identified the scene shown in the photograph as being that of Mountain Lake. Some even located the position of the photographer correctly, standing on the Highway 35 bridge looking south.

The winning entry was selected by lot from the correct ones received and was submitted by Mrs. Alvin Cowen of R.R. 1, Haliburton. She'll receive a $30 voucher redeemable at Easton's Red and White Foodmasters in Minden or Haliburton.

Congratulations are also in store for the four other correct entrants, Lorna Hicks, Don Hicks, Brian Alexander and Milt Sears. And a special thanks to everyone who took part in our contests throughout the summer. The response was overwhelming and we hope, even if you were not one of the winners, that you enjoyed the challenge of attempting to identify the scenes.

- The Safety Factor for bad government has always been a good economy.
- A lack of planning and leadership is easier to swallow when jobs are plenty and business is good.
- The safety factor is gone.

As a member of council I would propose:

- (1) The first meetings of council immediately identify the areas of priority for 3 years of determined leadership, such as:
 - (A) Village Improvements - as coordinated by the BIA to strengthen visitor attraction
 - (B) A Marketing Package for new business opportunities - and a commitment to use it.
 - (C) An Official Plan for Township Development - that includes the input of seasonal and permanent residents.
 - (D) A Seasonal Resident's Board - for the support, advice, and participation that has been lost for too long.

The "Fun, Food, Frolic and Entertainment" of the Harvest Festival events gets underway this weekend in first Minden and then Gooderham. The organizers in each community have been working very hard to make their night the best of the four -- and only if you get out to all of them can you really judge who that winner is. Regardless of that fact we do know that a good time will be had by all at all locations.

Our advertising to date has stressed that Passports were available only in advance and we had hoped that your response to this would make it easier for those planning each extravaganza to anticipate attendance. It would now appear that we can make passports available at the door but we must caution you -- all of the centres do have capacity limitations and you are still urged to purchase your passports in advance to ensure your admission.

We have also added another outlet for passports. Pilkington's Smoke Shop in Lindsay is now handling them for us to support the promotion being done over C.K.L.Y.

Have you ever seen a Crab Race? You can see one on Friday in Minden. Have you ever tried authentic Bradwurst or Sauerbraten? Have you ever tried the "Big Wheel" in Monte Carlo? You can try one on the following Friday in Stanhope. Have you ever experienced an Elizabethan Feast? You can do that a week from Saturday in Haliburton. Yes, you can visit four countries in just two weekends for only $8.00 per person.

The passports admit you to one, two, or all four events, and then you may munch, quaff or tiddle at your leisure and pay as you go in dollars, francs or English pounds. The Haliburton event is slightly different in that it is a flat $10.00 for their entire feast in addition to your passport admission.

We look forward to seeing you all at each and every event!

Bus tours just on Tuesdays

The Colour Bus Tours initiated last week have proved very popular, but only on the all day basis. The half day trips originally scheduled for Thursdays have been cancelled, and only the full day tour is scheduled for each Tuesday until Thanksgiving. The bus leaves Haliburton at the Rails' End Gallery at 9:30 a.m. (Please park over toward the Government Dock) and picks up Minden passengers in the Municipal lot (rear of Mae's) at 10:15 a.m. Tickets are available at both the Gallery and Mae's as well as from the Chamber. To be sure of a seat on the bus pick up your tickets in advance. The $10.95 ticket includes lunch at the Nordic Inn but you should allow an additional $2.00 for admission to the Kanawa and Glebe Park Museums.

Mud and Run in Wilberforce

Hard on the heels of a successful "Hillclimb competition" at the ski hill in Wilberforce, Bill Thomas is now preparing his property for the first annual "Mud & Run" for four wheel drive vehicles to be held on Saturday and Sunday of the Thanksgiving weekend. Anyone with a 4 x 4 may enter and spectators will be treated to some exciting action from the viewing area provided. The event is being co-sponsored by the very active Coe Hill 4 x 4 Club and should set the pace for more events of its kind to follow. For more information, contact Bill Thomas, owner of "Bill's Hill's" at 448-2924.

John Williams, incidentally, is presently applying for sanctions and sponsorship for next year's Hillclimb at the Wilberforce site so you can pretty well count on that exciting attraction returning next August.

Haliburton Huskie in home stretch

Gary Vasey's fantastic colt Haliburton Huskie has now won 3 consecutive stakes races and is aiming for two more big ones coming up shortly.

The September 25 Gray Stakes will be televised and we look forward to cheering him down to the winner's circle. On October 11 the Canadian Futurity will be the next stepping stone to major stardom for this fine horse. With horses like Haliburton Huskie, Big Redstone, Gull Lake, Kushog, Kennisis and Haliburton Boy, Gary has, along with Don Finn made Haliburton area and the tartan they use for racing colours well known to racing fans throughout Canada and the U.S. Hats off to both of them.

Soccer teams lose

The Redmen soccer teams turned in two exciting contests Wednesday afternoon but were unable to claim a victory in either match. The seniors lost to the visiting Fenelon Falls squad by a 3-2 margin while the juniors were blanked 2-0.

Tim Wood and Al Cortez scored the two goals for the senior squad.

The teams travel out of town today (September 22). They play I.E. Weldon Secondary School in Lindsay.

Players from Fenelon Falls and the HHSS soccer team seemed destined for a collision. They pursue the ball during a match held Wednesday in Haliburton. Both the junior and senior Haliburton teams lost to the visitors.

Movies for seniors

There appears to be some interest in presenting a bi-weekly movies showing for seniors at the Minden Library Cultural Centre, but library organizers would like to get a definite reading before starting the program.

Bev Wood, who is in charge of the program said the program for seniors would include travelogues and documentaries. She is hoping to begin the series October 15 and needs to receive an indication of the interest by October 13. Those seniors interested in the program are urged to contact the library any day between 3 and 5 p.m. The movies would be shown every second Friday afternoon between 2 and 3 p.m.

Few details offered on dismissal as Guild elects new directors

It seems unlikely that any more information surrounding the dismissal of Lucinda St. Pierre as curator for the Haliburton Highlands Guild of Fine Arts will be made public in the near future. The organization held its annual meeting Monday evening with over 50 members in attendance at the Dysart municipal chambers.

While outgoing president Ruth Gorrie and Guild lawyer Joshua Liswood of Toronto, attempted to answer some of the questions involving the curator's firing, Liswood suggested, "...it would not be wise for members to embark on an expose or public discussion," of the dismissal. The lawyer noted that St. Pierre had consulted a lawyer about the firing and she could take legal action against the Guild for up to six years after her termination. St. Pierre was fired June 29, 1982.

"At this point I am not aware of any lawsuit which has been started," the Guild lawyer assured the members in attendance. "I have informed her lawyer of the Guild's position on this matter and have invited him to discuss it with me or proceed with legal action. I have no indication of any action being taken," he added.

The discussion of the firing of St. Pierre drew the greatest response from the crowd on hand as routine annual meeting business, including the election of a new board of directors, proceeded smoothly.

Retiring president, Ruth Gorrie, broached the subject of the dismissal near the end of the meeting. She noted the matter had been of serious concern to the board and members for some time. Gorrie explained that the responsibilities of the curator had been reviewed six months after St. Pierre had been appointed. The curator apparently received a vote of confidence from the board at that time.

However, in the following six months the curator failed, according to Gorrie, to fulfill the requests of the board and finally the termination notice was given to St. Pierre.

Liswood said he felt the board had a basis for the termination action although he refused to discuss what those reasons were. He said the board's action in offering St. Pierre a month's salary following her termination was a sign of good faith but he felt the board was not legally obligated to do so.

One member said she found it hard to accept the firing of St. Pierre. "The curator was appointed, we worked with her and grew to like her. Then she's gone. As a member of the Guild I find it hard to accept this. I liked Lucinda."

Ruth Gorrie said she didn't feel, judging by comments at the time, that all Guild members liked working with the curator. She explained that the board of directors offered three times to allow St. Pierre to resign, but she had refused.

Liswood said he was aware of a number of allegations made by St. Pierre, through her solicitor. "I haven't been able to substantiate any of them," he commented.

Another member of the audience pressed the lawyer for an explanation. "We're entitled to an explanation," she stated. "It's causing a split that is damaging the Guild."

Liswood said his advice to the membership would be not to pursue the matter publicly as it could hurt any defense action if the case were to come to court. He said the passage of time would help to put the situation in perspective.

The question of St. Pierre's status with the Haliburton County Board of Education was not clarified by the lawyer. He said he did not know what action the board had taken following the firing in June. When the curator was hired a portion of her salary was being paid by the Board of Education. She in turn spent a portion of her time teaching art in county schools.

Cheryl Murdoch, chairman of the Haliburton County Board of Education, said Tuesday afternoon that the board was prepared to honour their contract with St. Pierre. "She was hired by us on a quarter time basis and we're willing to honour that agreement," she said. "She's welcome to come back on that basis," Murdoch added. She noted, however, that St. Pierre had indicated in conversations with herself and board officials, that she was looking for full-time employment. "We had no quarrel with her work here," the chairman added.

One final questioner asked whether the Guild would be hiring another curator. Retiring president Ruth Gorrie said the matter rested with the newly elected board of directors. She noted that financial considerations would probably have a great deal to do with the matter.

Other matters

The annual meeting of the Guild saw the election of officers for the 1982-83 season. A slate of 15 was presented by the nominating committee for the 14 seats. Elected were: Debbie Bates, Linda Beachli, Barbara Bolin, Pat Campbell, Carole Finn, Audrey Heywood, Les Hughes, Violetta Martin, Tom Milligan, Alan Oakley, Barbara Peel, Marie Wallace, Mary Wallace and Catherine Wilkinson.

Those in attendance also heard reports from various convenors in the Guild and endorsed a resolution giving Elizabeth Hobden an honorary membership in the Guild. Mrs. Hobden has been closely associated with the organization and was involved with the formation of the Guild.

Council considers coinage

Haliburton County residents may be able to celebrate the dropping of the word provisional from the county name by buying or spending a special Haliburton County coin.

Warden Ron Gambell suggested at the September 15 meeting of the council that a committee look into the possibility of having a special coin struck to mark the occasion. He said, with the co-operation of area banks, the coin could be used as legal tender in the county for 1983.

Gambell said the coin would be good promotion for the county and would be a suitable way of marking the change in the name of the county. The matter of dropping the provisional from the county's title was raised last year and came to a head this past summer when the council finally approved the terms under which the provisional status would be dropped. According to a report given to the councilors, the provincial legislation which would make the change legal has been prepared and should be presented during the fall sitting of the legislature.

The warden told the meeting that the coins could be purchased for $2700 for $10,000. He noted that if they were sold at their face value, the county would stand to make money on the deal. "Now that's something the members of council surely must be in favour of?" he commented.

The warden was given approval to examine the proposal further and is expected to report to the October meeting of the council on the progress.

Harvest Festival opens Friday night

The Haliburton Highlands Harvest Festival kicks off this weekend with two events, the first in Minden.

The Caravan-type celebration will open with a Caribbean night co-sponsored by the Minden Figure Skating Club. Those in attendance will be treated to typical island food, drink and entertainment.

The big feature of the Friday evening event is live crab races. Those in attendance will be able to watch as the crabs meander from the starting circle, heading for the outer finish line.

While watching the races, they can sip rum punch, pina colodas or other island treats.

Saturday evening the action shifts to Gooderham where a Bavarian night is planned. There will be an omm-pa-pa band, steins of everyone's favourite bubbly and traditional German dishes such as bratwurst, sauerbraten and of course sauer kraut.

Entrance to these events will be by passports only. According to the Chamber of Commerce, which is co-ordinating the activities, passports will be available at the door, but they are urging participants to pick them up in advance at various locations throughout the county. The passports sell for $3 for one event, $5 for two, and $8 for all four. They are available at Fogg's in Carnarvon, Sandalwood Gifts in Minden, Varty Jewellers in Haliburton and Barr's General Store in Gooderham or through the Chamber of Commerce office in Minden.

The passports are your ticket into the hall. Food and beverages are extra.

The Harvest Festival will conclude next weekend with a French theme in Stanhope, October 1 and an Elizabethan Feast October 2 in Haliburton.

Council says no to disarmament

A request for support for the idea of world-wide nuclear disarmament was turned down by the Haliburton County Council. The matter was raised at the September 15 meeting.

According to a letter received from the Haliburton County People for Peace committee, the group was no longer pursuing the possibility of having the question of nuclear disarmament appear on the November municipal ballot. In a number of municipalities in Canada a referendum calling for disarmament will be included with the municipal vote.

At the request of Glamorgan Reeve Ken Maguire, a recorded vote was held on the issue. The final vote was four votes in favour with 17 opposed. The total number of votes is greater than the number of councillors because of a weighted voting system that comes into effect when a recorded vote is called for.

The resolution read: "Be it resolved that county council of the Provisional County of Haliburton fully supports the pursuance of world wide nuclear disarmament."

Those opposed to the resolution included: Anson, Hindon and Minden Reeve Lloyd Walker and Deputy Reeve Doug Pritchard; Cardiff Deputy Reeve Mack Peters; Dysart Reeve Murray Fearrey and Deputy Reeve Harold Bannon; Glamorgan Reeve Ken Maguire and Deputy Reeve Robert McCausland; Lutterworth Deputy Reeve Carman Coumbs; Sherbourne, McClintock and Livingstone Reeve Fred Baum; Snowdon Reeve Bob Vick and Deputy Reeve John Francis; Stanhope Reeve Jim Harrison.

Those favouring the resolution included: Bicroft chairman Bill Howe; Sherborne, McClintock and Livingstone Deputy Reeve Dalton MacDonald; Stanhope Deputy Reeve Elgin Stouffer.

Cardiff Reeve Malcolm McGillivray was not in attendance and Warden Ron Gambell, Reeve of Lutterworth Township, did not vote.

A review of the organization's constitution has been underway for the past year, however, according to Ruth Gorrie, the committee is still working on preparing a new document.

The group was also told that Christine Lynd had been hired at the beginning of August to serve as program co-ordinator at the Rails' End Gallery. She is working closely with volunteer co-ordinator Carole Finn. Lynd's term of employment is to expire at the end of this month, however, it was recommended that the new board of directors consider hiring her permanently.

Nichol, Rosenberg claim Open trophies

Bob Nichol and Ken Rosenberg led a field of 25 in the annual Times Autumn Open golf tournament Sunday. The event was played at the Haliburton Highlands Golf Course on Lake Kasha-gawigamog. The tournament was favoured by ideal weather.

Bob Nichol captured top honours for the low gross of the day. He completed the 18 hole event with a score of 73.

Ken Rosenberg was awarded the low net trophy for his score of 64.

Bob Austin placed second in the low gross category, carding a 78. Third was Dave Stevens with a 79, then Larry Rosenberg and Dick Davies also with 79.

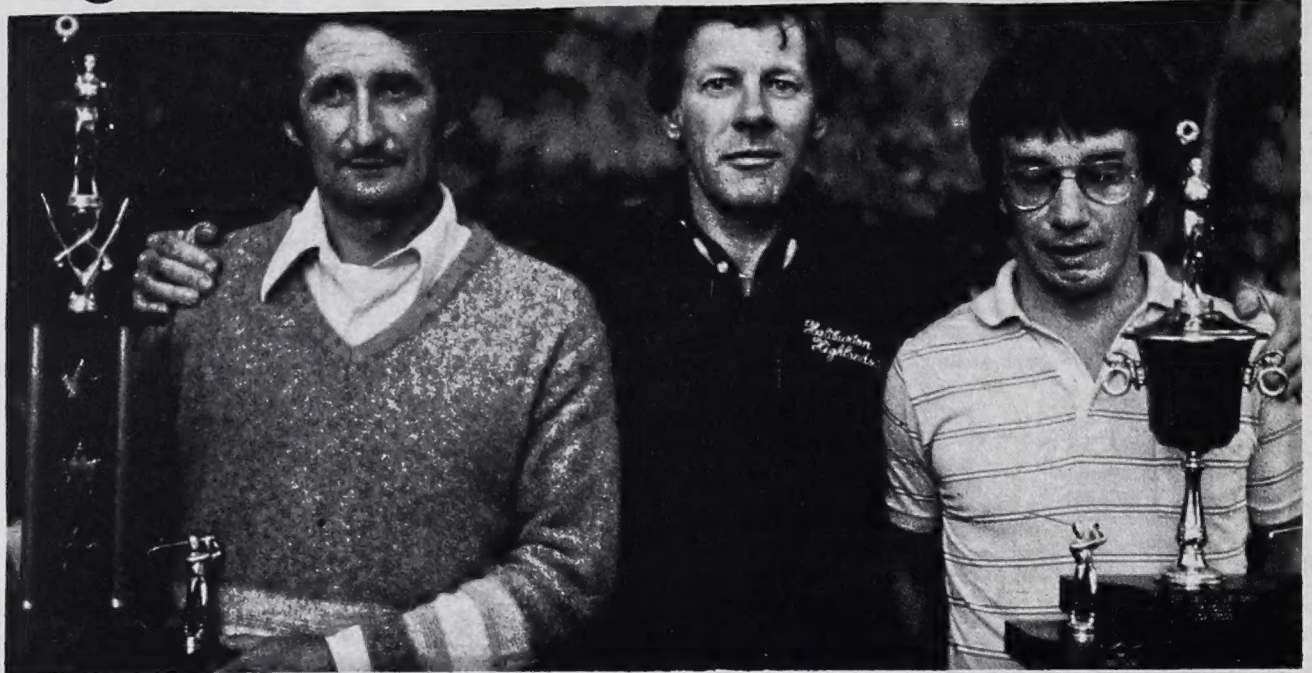

Ross Burk was second in the low net competition with a score of 65. He was followed by Jerry Pillsworth with a score of 66, and Jim Todd with an identical score.

Scores from other participants included Barry Walker at 67, Warren Payne, Leigh Bull and Brian Billings all at 68, Gary Bailey at 69, and Craig Wood, Bob Collier and Wayne Ellison with a 70. Ron Robinson carded a 71 while Harry Brezina shot a 74.

The most honest golfer of the day was Gor Bennett. His score was unavailable.

Following the 18 holes of golf, the crew retired to the Royal View Lodge for a meal and prize presentation. The prize table included a number of items donated by Canada Dry and a shirt donated by the PineStone Inn Golf Course, as well as a number of gifts purchased at local stores.

Juniors win - seniors lose as Redmen open season

Haliburton Highlands Redmen split a pair of football games Friday afternoon as the season opened for the junior and senior squads.

It was the juniors who came up with the convincing 20 to 0 win against their counterparts from Lindsay Collegiate and Vocational School.

The seniors lost in their game against LCVI by a 19-2 margin.

Coach Gary Brohman said the Haliburton juniors appeared to be better trained than their counterparts from Lindsay, despite the first quarter confusion on the sidelines that often saw the team playing a man short. Ironing out who should be on the field and when will be one of the team's priorities.

Despite these opening game problems, the juniors were still able to dominate the visitors. Mike McNaull picked up the only touchdown in the first half of the game. Mike Blake tallied for a TD in the third quarter as Don Meharrie added the two point conversion. Meharrie figured in the final touchdown of the game in the closing quarter.

According to coach Brohman, one of the reasons the visitors were blanked was the strong showing turned in by the defensive squad.

The senior defensive team also turned in a strong game, however in the final quarter they were unable to hold back the LCVI attack and the visitors came up with the victory.

The game was a closely fought contest for the first three quarters. With both teams only giving up points grudgingly, Lindsay held a slim one point lead going into the final quarter, but then the visitors came alive. The Redmen were punting from their ten yard line on a third interested mothers are urged to attend as the play school is to commence in early October.

Congratulations to Brian Miles on his recent win in the Pool Marathon at T.J.'s. A ladies winner is yet to be named. Good luck to all participants.

We are sorry to hear that Alice Miles was recently confined to Ross Memorial Hospital in Lindsay. We all wish her a speedy recovery.

We wish to congratulate Galway Ladies Softball team who defeated Gooderham for the championship.

Are there any enthusiastic "Scrabble" fans out there? If so, would you be interested in a weekly scrabble club? Please call 488-2606 and leave your name.

"No news is good news" so it is said, but unless we hear from the people around Kinmount, we don't have the good news to print. So good readers, drop a line to T.J.'s or drop in to the store. You are all welcome.

The first Kinette meeting for the year 1982-83 was held September 14 at the Wagon Wheel Motel. Our newest Kinette Trish Slavick was initiated in a candlelit ceremony headed by president Linda Pentney. Our guest for the evening was Julie Wilkinson, wife of Kinsmen Brad. She paid her dues and will be initiated into the Kinette Club later this year.

Our Sergeant at Arms - Kinette Marj Young is back again this year doing a fine job collecting fines. A joint Cystic Fibrosis meeting with our Kinsmen is scheduled for October 6. Special guest for the evening is Walt Prine and his daughter Tina who is a C.F. child.

That's about it for this month.

R. O. (Bing) Runquist of Calgary, Alberta, was elected the 62nd national president of the Association of Kinsmen Clubs at the organization's annual convention in Brandon, Manitoba, where it was announced that during the past year the more than 1,100 Kinsmen and Kinette clubs across Canada donated $22,659,700 in service funds.

This year the Association contributed a record $1 million to the Canadian Cystic Fibrosis Foundation as well as supporting many other organizations such as the Unitarian Service Committee, the Canadian Diabetes Association and the March of Dimes.

Mr. Runquist, who was born in Moose Jaw, Sask., is a project manager with Paragon Realty Ltd. of Calgary. He joined the Association in 1967 in Saskatoon where he attended university. He was member of the Kinsmen Club of Saskatoon until 1970 and after being transferred to Calgary he joined his present club in 1973, the Kinsmen Club of Stampede City.

Mr. Runquist is married to Sheila, a member of the Kinette Club of Stampede City, and they have two children: Jeffery, 19, and Jocelyn, 17.

Rev. Burgess had a busy day, this twelfth day of September. Went to preach at Eagle Lake over the roughest road he can remember. Then back to Haliburton to speak at Lakeside Baptist church, then here in the chapel Sunday night, never leaving us in the lurch. The Thompson's came to do their part, which they do so faithfully. Harold read the lesson from Psalm forty-three. Rev. Burgess then took his text from the same Psalm - "Judge me, oh God, and plead my cause against an ungodly nation."

Sunday and Monday being such nice days, we thought there would have been more taking advantage of our new gazebo - a few out Sunday, just three on Monday.

Rev. Burgess took the service Tuesday morning in the absence of Rev. Wicks. He spoke on "Cast your burdens on the Lord, and He will sustain thee;" if you are in a fix. Fred Ballard came to play. We thank them both for coming this rainy Tuesday.

Watched four interesting movies Tuesday afternoon. We were watching the last interesting scene, when something went wrong with the machine. Linda tried to fix it, without much success. I guess the machine just wanted a rest.

Speaking of Linda - she was home sick yesterday, and this week Doris is away, so I guess we could call it blue Monday.

Redmen

down situation, when a Lindsay runner, grabbing the ball upfield, returned it to the Haliburton five yard line. In a matter of two plays the Lindsay team was over the line for a TD and a two point conversion.

Later in the fourth quarter, the Redmen went for the first down on a third and six yard situation. The drive failed and Lindsay connected on a long pass from the 35 yard line for their second touchdown of the afternoon. A two point conversion rounded out the scoring for the visitors and sealed the game.

Coach Brohman praised the defense squad for their efforts and agreed that the offensive team needed some polishing. Practises this week will be concentrating on improving the performance of the offensive unit.

The two teams will be tested this Friday when Brock Collegiate plays in Haliburton. Both Brock teams defeated Fenelon Falls last week, so the Redmen will have their work cut out for them.

The senior game begins at 2 p.m. with the juniors taking to the field immediately following the first contest.

We had Payne and Deacon back again after a two month's holiday. It seems like good times again to hear them sing and play. A lot of relatives came during the weekend to visit relatives here. It is nice to have visitors come, whom we hold so dear.

My sister Myrtle and husband came Sunday, looking spry. I always get a great kick out of George - he sure is quite a guy. Then our son Roger's wife, Barbara, dropped in on her way to visit her parents, the Hal Burtons. How long she would stay she wasn't real certain. I got arthritis in my hip - it was hurting something fierce. I got examined by our own Dr. Pierce. He said, "Don't let a little thing like this upset your apple cart. I wouldn't worry. It's a long way from your heart."

The ladies from Kinmount United church brought a lovely lunch this Thursday afternoon, and served it up so nicely. We played them some lovely tunes. If they enjoyed it, they really didn't say. Edith Welch thanked them, before they went away.

Thursday night is bingo night here at Hyland Crest. Ted Carr has cause to stick out his chest. He has won five bingos, two nights in a row. Congratulations, Ted, that's the way to go.

Friday afternoon Doris took us in the bus, to see the colour on the hills. We saw a lot of lovely sights, and had a lot of thrills. We made one mistake. We turned in the road that leads to Eagle Lake. The road was so blooming rough, our false teeth did shake. We stopped in Carnarvon for ice cream - then back home down the Bobcaygeon Road. The colour there was supreme.

Give me one friend for peace or war,
And I will hold myself well blessed,
and richly compensated for
The cussedness of all the rest.

Bowlers hold annual meeting

The third annual meeting of the Minden Lawn Bowling Club was held on Friday, September 17 at the Club building.

The President, Don Sinclair, reported on another very successful season with a total membership of 82.

He thanked the Club members for the considerable amount of time spent at the beginning of the 1982 season in improving the interior of the building for a brighter and more comfortable environment enjoyed by the membership.

A new slate of officers and Directors were elected for the 1983 and 84 seasons as follows: President - Jim Burton, Vice President - Alberta Maitland, Treasurer - Holly Cooper, Secretary - Gloria Lemieux. Directors - Al Barron, Rowland Sedgwick, Ev Rudd, Alf Palmer, Lloyd Boskett, Russ King, Cec Riches, Henry Webert.

The Play-offs for the 1982 season will be held on Thursday, October 7 at 4:30 p.m. followed by a pot luck supper.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone who came out in support of Terry Fox for an evening of fun and delicious food at our 2nd Annual Terry Fox Corn & Wiener Roast. A special word of thanks to the Minden Kinsmen Club for all their help with setting up and looking after the wiener and corn, to the Dixie Land Ambassadors who provided us with musical entertainment, to Dollo's IGA for getting us all that delicious corn, and to all the runners and walkers who joined in a symbolic tribute to Terry Fox. Running (in order of finish) were: Gary Stephenson, Donny Schlosser, Greg Foran, Jarrett Gentle, Lisa Bandi, Jeff Foran, Catya Hynard, Peter Hynard, and Leanne Schlosser. Walking (in order of finish) were: Mrs. Flemming, Gladys Wruth, Ruth Kellett, Rozanne and Matthew Hynard, Linda and Elizabeth Elliott, Catherine
